Two Pastors Return; New Man at Center

REV. H. L. THURSTON

REV. EDGAR A. IRVINE

Two local pastors were returned to their work here at the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, and one was transferred by Bishop W. C. Martin.

Rev. H. L. Thurston was returned as pastor of the Methodist Church, while Rev. Edgar A. Irvine was returned as manager of the Methodist Camp Ground, southeast of Canyon in Ceta Canyon.

Rev. Weldon Butler was transferred as director of the Wesley Foundation, West Texas State College, to the Methodist Church at Follette. Rev. James Pickens will replace him in his work here. Pickens is the son of a Methodist pastor and has recently completed his ministerial course at S. M. U.

Dr. Earl G. Hamlett was returned to the Amarillo District as Superintendent of the Methodist Churches.

Rev. Thurston was named chairman of the conference Board of Missions. This board serves for a 4-year term and administers $40,000 annually in support of newly organized and weaker churches. The board also supervises a $40,000 loan fund used to aid small churches in building programs. Mission work is also handled by this board, within the conference and abroad. He has served on this board for 12 years.

Rev. Thurston is also a member of several important conference boards.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston drove to Ft. Worth following the close of the conference to attend the graduation services of Texas Wesleyan College. Their son-in-law, Robert P. Williams, received his degree. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are moving to Fritch where he will assume the duties of chemist with the Texhoma Gas Pipe Line Co.

Decline in Summer Enrollment at WT In Prospect

There will be a decline of about 150 students in West Texas State for the summer term, according to predictions Tuesday. Last summer approximately 1000 enrolled for the summer's work.

The decline is due to two factors: The loss in GI training; and the fact that so many teachers of the area complete work on their M. A. degrees under the Gilmer-Aiken bill.

Students have until next Monday to enroll in the summer school. Classes started this morning.

ATTENDS UNCLE'S FUNERAL

A. M. Cunningham attended the funeral of his uncle, Lindsey Holm, in Floydada Sunday. Mr. Holm died on Saturday.

Miss Jo Crabtree returned to Canyon Monday after having spent two weeks in Lubbock with her mother, Mrs. Leslie Crabtree.

Total Building Permits Drop to $32,950 in May

Building permits during the month of May show a total of $32,950. Ten permits were issued and eight of them were for residences. One was for an addition while another was for an accessory building.

Cost of the individual structures ranged from $450 up to $5,000. The accessory building was the least expensive, being the $450 structure.

Building permits issued in May show a $6,550 drop as compared with permits issued during the month of April. In April the permits totaled $39,500.

Bad Checks Are Given to Local Insurance Man

Bogus check artists are still finding local victims, said a spokesman from Sheriff M. E. Cantrell's office early this week. The latest bad check deal concerned one of the insurance firms here in town.

The man passing the check went to the insurance office to insure some wheat. He said that he had a section of land on which 500 acres was in wheat and it was this wheat crop that he desired to insure. Cost of the insurance policy came to more than $1,200. A check was given on a bank in another town to cover the insurance policy.

At this time the man suddenly noticed that he was short of pocket change so he wrote another check on the same bank for $20. This check was cashed by the insurance man and it was learned later that the man had no account with the bank on which the two checks were drawn.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the man passing the bad checks. When an investigation was made concerning the passer of the bad checks, it was learned that his record fills four pages in the books of the FBI department.

More Rain Falls In Three Showers Here in Canyon

Rain in the amount of .63 of an inch fell in Canyon over the week end. The rain was spotted throughout the area, with more than an inch falling outside of Canyon.

Rain Saturday night measured .35 of an inch; .15 of an inch Sunday night; and .10 of an inch Tuesday afternoon.

BROTHER OF J. C. DOWD DIES

J. C. Dowd received word Tuesday that his brother, G. T. Dowd, of Phoenix, Ariz., died Monday night. He had been an invalid for more than four years. J. C. Dowd, who is recovering rapidly from his recent major operation was unable to make the trip to Arizona for the funeral. His brother had been a resident of Canyon a number of years ago and has many friends among the old timers.

Third Highest Week at Palo Duro State Park

Attendance at Palo Duro State Park during the past week went to more than 5,000 persons.

The highest attendance in the history of the park was enjoyed over last 4th of July when 7,000 persons entered the Park. The next highest attendance came on the opening of the first Treasure Hunt when 5,400 persons paid admission to the Park during this week.

John McCarty, concessionaire at the Park, states that the fish rodeo at Buffalo Lake stimulated business at the Palo Duro rather than detract from the attendance.

Mrs. Laura SoRelle and grandson, Billy SoRelle, of Amarillo, have returned from a four day trip by Zepher to Colorado Springs, Colo., and near by points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Walden Mobley of Vancouver, Wash., arrived this morning to visit in the home of his brother, Rhome.

National Guard Company F Left for Camp at Ft. Hood Saturday Night

Captain Mabery C. Vandergriff, who was promoted to that rank May 20 and also made Commanding Officer of Company F National Guard, left with his organization for their annual two week encampment Saturday night. The encampment will be at North Ft. Hood this year.

The convoy preceding the main body of men on the trip left Thursday morning. They had the tents set up and the area ready for those going by train. These men also had trucks ready when the train arrived to take the men and their baggage to the tent area.

Warrant Officer James O. Huffman, executive officer for the organization, explained that this year's encampment would be more convenient than other encampments. The tent area has concrete slabs this year. Formerly the tents were pitched on the ground with the earth as the floor. He also explained that the mess halls are semi-permanent. This means there are concrete slabs with drains and a cold water faucet over which the company will pitch their mess hall tent.

Company F was also to draw new jeeps at camp. The old ones had been taken recently for shipment to Korea. Soon after camp the company is to draw a new truck. The truck was explained as being one of the latest types made by GMC, the kind that has a hydraulic drive.

Huffman said that all the men in the company had made at least one encampment trip. This one will be nothing new to them and they will know what to expect, Huffman said.

Before leaving the Armory Saturday night the company was given a physical examination by Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., who is a former national guardsman from Kentucky.

Company F members going on encampment are: Capt. Mabery C. Vandergriff, Warrant Officer James O. Huffman, M-Sgt. Jack A. Barnett, M-Sgt. Don H. Tucker, SFC Jerry D. Bollen.

SFC James P. Lindsey, SFC Charles F. Peckenpaugh, Sgt. Billy G. Bible, Sgt. Earl C. Burtz, Sgt. Marvin E. Kinney, Sgt. Edward E. Morris, Sgt. Harold J. Prichard, Cpl. Fredrick R. Byard, Sgt. Marvin Fite.

Sgt. Robert E. O'Donald, Sgt. David A. Pevehouse, Sgt. James T. Bible, Sgt. Louis A. Burrus, Sgt. Bennie J. Cupell, Sgt. Shirley M. Downing, Sgt. Chalmers H. Keeton, Sgt. Billy J. McCarter, Sgt. Robinson Family Is Inured in Car Wreck Sunday a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Robinson and daughter, Shirley Jean, were injured early Sunday morning when their car was hit south of Canyon by a car driven by Calvin Robinson of Amarillo. They were on their way home when they collided with the Amarillo car.

All members of the party were brought to Neblett Hospital for treatment but were dismissed.

Both cars were badly damaged by the collision.

Miller and Myers Leave for Boys State

John Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller, and Tommy Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Myers, leave this week end for Austin to represent Canyon at Boys' State which convenes there next week.

These boys were chosen by the American Legion, Lions Club, and Rotary Club on the basis of scholarship, leadership and service to their school and country.

To promote citizenship, Boys' State will set up a model state and county governments. Boys in attendance will be elected to the respective offices.

Last year's representatives were Harrell Slack and Richard Sanders.

Mrs. Helen Cox of Ionia, Mich., wife of the late Dr. T. J. Cox, spent last week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Cox and with other relatives. Before returning to Michigan Mrs. Cox will visit a brother, Dr. Arthur L. Wender, in Berkeley, California.

Pioneer Woman Here for Treatment

Mrs. O. H. Loyd and Her Well Known Physician Husband in City

Mrs. O. H. Loyd of Vega is in the Neblett Hospital for medical treatment. Dr. Loyd closed his office in Vega and has been staying with Mrs. Loyd throughout the time she is under medical treatment. She is improving, and if her condition continues to improve, Dr. Loyd will take her back home Friday afternoon.

The Loyds are pioneers in the Vega country. While enjoying a splendid medical practice in Missouri a real estate man interested Dr. Loyd in land in the Panhandle. He praised the future of this section so highly that Dr. Loyd bought a section of land sight-unseen, paying cash for the land.

When Mrs. Loyd's health became bad in Missouri and Dr. Loyd started to look for a new location, he came to Vega, and decided at once that this would be their future home. The couple moved there, and Dr. Loyd started to invest in Panhandle land. He owned about 17 sections near Vega at one time, but has since sold much of his holdings to renters who have shown their merit.

Throughout the years Dr. and Mrs. Loyd have been very generous in their giving to worthy enterprises. Not many Canyon folks realize that Dr. Loyd has made generous gifts to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and when the Methodist Student Union was built near the campus the couple furnished the lounge at a cost of more than $1,000.

Vega put on its annual barbecue in early days, but dropped the practice during the war when beef became so high. When Dr. Loyd urged that the annual gathering of pioneers be resumed, he was met with the objection of high costs. His characteristic reply was, "I will pay the entire bill."

As he nears his 84th birthday, Dr. Loyd has tried to induce a young doctor to settle in Vega and to take over his practice. So far he has not succeeded in finding such a doctor. When asked about his practice, his reply was, "The health of my wife comes first. I closed the office and told my patients they could go to Amarillo. Hereford or come to Canyon where there are good hospitals and good doctors."

During the illness of Mrs. Loyd there has been a constant stream of visitors coming here from Vega and other parts of the Panhandle to wish her a speedy recovery and return to good health.

In the meanwhile, few people in Canyon have a chance to see Dr. Loyd. He stays with his wife constantly, and her progress in return to her usual good health will be largely due to his hourly vigil at her bedside. If there are any persons in Canyon who do not know Dr. and Mrs. Loyd, they are missing a real opportunity of visiting with two grand pioneers of the Panhandle.

Canyon Boy Gets Commission at T. U.

Among the large group of men who were commissioned at the University of Texas was Lt. James K. Knott, who received his commission in the Transportation Corps.

Lt. Knott is the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Knott.

Mrs. Richard Hefley and son of Macon, Georgia, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Berry. Mr. Hefley is in the Air Corps and is leaving for overseas.

Kenneth Fisher, who is an instructor in the Navy Training Base at Memphis, Tenn., spent the week end in the parental Lem Fisher home.

Virginia Rigsby Received Scholarship From Canyon Public School Faculty

To Miss Virginia Rigsby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rigsby, goes the Canyon Classroom Teachers Scholarship of $100. She was chosen to receive this award on the basis of dependability, good workmanship, a pleasing personality, a wide variety of interests and a deep desire to make her school one of the best. With the scholarship go all the good wishes and congratulations of the faculty. Principal J. E. Miller presents the award to Miss Rigsby.

Scientific Study Of Soil Made To Aid Irrigation

A recent study was made in Randall County in order to promote greater efficiency in irrigating crops. The experiment was made on the Floyd Moore farm, three miles north of Happy. Purpose of the work was to find the water holding capacity and water infiltration rate on types of soil in Randall County.

The experiment was under the direction of R. V. Thurmond, irrigation specialist with Texas A&M College Extension Service. Thurmond was aided by Ivan D. Wood, irrigation engineer from Denver, Colo., Mr. (Swede) Swanson of the Texas Experiment Station at Amarillo and Mr. Koover of the Soil Conservation Service.

The first thing they did was to determine the size of siphon that would determine the correct amount of water for our soil types and also determine the most convenient length of run for the irrigation water to make.

They found that the soil in Randall County is about 4 1/2 feet deep, and that this amount of soil will store 9 inches of water. From the experiment they learned that the water infiltration rate is only about .35 inches per hour. In looking at the irrigation from this point of view it was easy to see that the most common practice is for irrigation farmers to do an inefficient job of wetting this 4 1/2 feet of soil.

In a meeting at the Moore farm on Wednesday afternoon, May 21, the results of the experiment were told to a group of Randall County farmers. These men saw the engineers measure the amount of water delivered by two pumps on the Moore farm. They also saw the engineers measure the electrical power required to operate the two pumps.

By measuring the electrical power required to operate the pumps the engineers could figure out how efficient each pump was operating. Electricians from the Southwestern Public Service Company were on hand to help with the electrical problems and water measuring.

In the afternoon when the experiments were completed the group was served refreshments.

Flies and Aphids Pose Problems For Evergreens

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Home Demonstration Agent, and John Brazzil, County Agent, said that recently several complaints had been received about flies swarming about evergreen trees and shrubbery. They said the flies swarmed about the evergreens because aphids were making honeydew on the trees or shrubbery.

This threat to evergreen trees and shrubbery can be destroyed with a solution of black leaf 40 and soap suds, the extension workers said. They added that directions on the bottle of black leaf 40 should be followed carefully.

To be effective the solution must be applied when the temperature is 75 degrees. The process may have to be repeated several times before the flies and aphids are completely destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cole returned Monday from Indianapolis where they saw the Memorial Day auto races.

Installation Has Started on Stop Gate at Crossing

Work began last week on the traffic stop gate at 15th Street and the railroad tracks north of the square. The bars that will let down to hold back the automobile traffic will be approximately 26 feet long. Workmen said the bars would be lowered automatically and that the speed of the train would determine the distance between the engine and the crossing when the bars are lowered.

The bars will be placed on the right hand side of the crossing in such a fashion as to form a barrier across the entire street when lowered. This type of signal has been described as one of the greatest safety features possible when it's impractical to install an underpass or overpass at a railroad crossing.

If plans progress according to schedule the stop signal should be completed by July 1. Since the men began work approximately ten days ago they have completed the concrete pillars on which the signal bars will be set. "This is excellent progress," said a spokesman for the workers, "because during this time there has been a holiday and a Sunday."

Brothers Win in 4-H Club Pig Litter Contest

Each year Allen Dickinson, a breeder of registered spotted Poland China pigs, gives $10.00 in prize money to the Randall County 4-H Club boy owning the heaviest litter of pigs when the litter is 14 days old. Two brothers, Art and Johnny Miller, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller of Happy, made the race a family affair this year by taking first and second prize.

Johnny Miller, the younger of the two brothers, won the $5.00 first prize. His litter of pigs weighed 80 1/2 pounds when 14 days old. Art Miller won the $3.00 second prize with a 14 day old 78 pound litter.

Roland O'Donald won the $2.00 third prize with a 73 pound, 14 day old litter of pigs. Dickinson supplies the boar which is used to sire the litters for the 4-H boys in the Randall County pig program.

Late Warning Is Better Than No Warning at All Believes Hester

Dr. George C. Hester has issued a warning to the people of Texas. He has been a student of government for many years, and served in the House of Representatives at Austin.

As we view the situation, the warning comes too late in most parts of Texas. When men are thinking of running for public office is the time for his elaborate warning, not after they get into the race and get their friends lined up, ready for the ballot counting.

Dr. Hester warns against the election of immature men who have a political axe to grind, and who are running for public office merely as a stepping stone into some other place of distinction.

We believe that Dr. Hester is far afield in approving the Legislative Budget Board, as he does in the concluding paragraph of his circular. He forgets that every institution in Texas has to beg the legislature and the Governor, together with the Board of Control for every cent which is appropriated for its support; that it must deal with the Board of Control in its purchases; and in case of educational institutions they must have the approval of the Board of Regents, the State Board of Education, as well as the Legislative Board, composed of persons who know little about running institutions of higher learning. In addition that departments must face the State Auditor, who is called an Efficiency Expert.

Is it any wonder then that the University of Texas, A&M College and Texas Tech College are all without presidents? The complicated system in Texas is breaking the backs of educators, who have no friends at court, but must fight every step of the way for the money they spend on their institutions.

Just compare this system to that of our neighboring state to the West, New Mexico. In that state the legislature appropriates money which is sent to a local bank for distribution by the President and the Board of Regents. These groups are responsible in reporting to the legislature alone for the use made of the money. In Texas we have gone hogwild over the handicaps which are placed on the various institutions within our state.

Dr. Hester has been serving in a denominational college and may be somewhat prejudiced against state institutions. His other remarks about the need of more experienced men serving the state is well taken, but he is certainly wrong in this one instance.

Beckworth Brought Campaign To Canyon Late in the Day

In spite of his fine record in public life, we are of the opinion that Congressman Lindley Beckworth is displaying poor judgment in this campaign here in the Panhandle.

He was slated to arrive in Canyon and speak at 2 o'clock. Instead of stopping here, he rushed on to Amarillo and did not get back until 3:30 o'clock. There were a number of voters gathered to hear him at 2 o'clock, but by 2:30 o'clock all of them left. He talked to thin air at 3:30 o'clock.

Beckworth was scheduled to speak in Panhandle at 4 o'clock, but it was 4:30 before he left Canyon. We are of the opinion that this is poor tactics on the part of a candidate for public office.

Beckworth says that he stands for economy, but proceeded to tell his listeners all of the increases that he stood for in federal spending without naming a single item which he proposed to eliminate from the federal spending.

As we view the situation from this distance, Beckworth was running a wild race here in the Panhandle, where he is practically unknown, as of the present time, and he did little to improve his standing with the voters.

Whether you are for Beckworth or for Price Daniel, you will have to admit that so far this is Daniel's race here in the Panhandle. The voters know Daniel, and respect his ability.

Taft and Shivers Are Winners In Texas State Political Frays

It took no prophet to see the hand writing on the political wall.

Senator Taft won in the GOP camp; Governor Shivers won in the Democratic convention.

So far as the Republican convention is concerned, it was largely due to manipulation on the part of Taft forces which won the state for the Ohio Senator.

In San Antonio, it was the case of 100 delegates out of 2000 walking out to form a rump convention. Under the able leadership of Governor Shivers, Texas will send a delegation to Chicago uninstructed and unpledged. What will happen to this delegation is anyone's guess. However, if the Texas delegation is unseated by the Truman National Committee, it will be just another steal of delegates for the interest of the little man from Missouri.

We are still keeping our fingers crossed as to whom the Republicans or the Democrats will finally nominate. We hope that the Democratic convention will be free and open in its dealings.

If the Republicans nominate Senator Taft, you may expect to see a strong pull for President Truman to accept the nomination of the Democratic convention. Truman has already stated that he will conduct a whistle-stop campaign, like the one he put on in 1948 when "no one but the voters expected him to win."

We shall see what we shall see.

It is not "un-American" to disagree with others, regardless of what positions they occupy.

There are people who have been sick so long that they would die, naturally, if they got well.

When you get in a hurry, that is a good time to be sure that you do not move too fast.

Democracy, like religion, suffers most from its careless advocates, not from its enemies.

So far, we have found no worker who believes that he is overpaid and underworked.

A hard task is eased by the application of immediate energy.

Not everything that is cut to half price is worth buying.

England Objects to Drastic Cuts for the Gimme Class

When Churchill returned as Prime Minister of England, there was a hopeful feeling on the part of the people of America that England might change her ways. Maybe, perhaps, the English people had regained the common sense of former years and would no longer expect the government to continue its hand-outs, so we hoped.

Lo, and behold, the "gimme" folks predominate in good old England. They like the idea of the government handouts. That is, so long as Uncle Sam furnishes the money which John Bull is feeding to the natives of England.

We are told that Churchill has just about run his course in England. That it will not be long until he falls before the onslaught of the voters who expect the government to support them.

This should be a warning to the government in Washington. Time was when Americans took great pride in supporting their government. Most of us enjoyed paying taxes. Here of late the spirit has changed. No one knows when he digs up his tax dollars into whose pockets it will land. There is deep resentment against the fellows who collect taxes for the government, but the money they collect finds its way into the pockets of some grafter rather than into the treasury to pay the expenses of government.

Fortunately the vast majority of our government employees are honest, but the few who are dishonest are still plying their trade, seemingly with the blessings of the White House.

No Clean Up in Washington Is The Order to Attorney General

As we view the confirmation of Judge James P. McGranery to be Attorney General of the United States, there will be no clean up of the mess which Truman has allowed to accumulate in his administration. When Truman first announced that he would not accept re-nomination we were hopeful that he would spend the balance of his time in office seeking to clean up the greed and graft which he has allowed to grow up in Washington and the various branches of his administration.

There was a lot of vocal protest against the confirmation in the Senate. All of this led nowhere. McGranery won, probably because he was the choice between two evils.

We shall see what we shall see, but do not expect any improvement in the official family of the President.

Another Prize Will Be Awarded The News by Texas Press

The Canyon News has just been advised that this publication is the winner of some kind of a prize at the Texas Press Association, which will meet in Houston June 13-14. There is no indication as to what the judges said about this publication, or the prize which we shall be awarded.

Arthur C. Haley, Jr., co-publisher of The News will attend the Texas Press Association this year, since there will be a meeting of the directors of the Panhandle Press Association in Houston.

Again, we shall see what we shall see in this newspaper game.

From time to time, we have suggested that our readers should go to church; the idea is still sound.

Smart business does not require anybody to steal from his neighbors, even if the law permits it.

In many respects, this is an unusual presidential race—if you know what we mean.

We know several individuals who can tell you what is wrong with the world.

Unsuccessful candidates perform a public service in a democracy.

Cities are much bigger now than those same cities were when I was a boy but, in at least one particular, they can not measure up to the glory of yesteryear and that is the theater.

As a lad, I visited St. Louis with my father half a dozen times and I recall the ads of a dozen shows in a single issue of the paper — stage shows, live people. I recall seeing "Across the Pacific," a melodrama of war in the Philippines; a light opera, "The Prince of Pilsen" and a comedy starring two Dutchmen—they might have been Webber and Fields but were probably imitators of that great team. I recall that they had a fuss and the fat little fellow threatened, "I will stick mine finger in your mouth and I won't let go."

Now, in St. Louis (as in practically all other cities except New York and, perhaps, Los Angeles) the shows are shadows on a screen, the same attractions that you can see in Ranger, Texas, or Piggott, Ark.

When a man is asked by a court or Congressional committee whether he is, or has been a Communist and says, "I refuse to answer on the ground it might incriminate me,"—he has answered the question and the answer is that he is, or has been, a Communist.

Because if he were not, he could say "No" and certainly that would not incriminate him.

Of course you are familiar with the expression, "He's has as much money as Carter had oats." Carter was a farmer in Georgia many years ago and he declared that his oats crop was so bountiful that he had to move the fence back to keep the oats from breaking it down.

Arkansas has the only trial court in the history of the United States from which there was no appeal—not even to the Supreme Court of the United States. A convicted man's only hope for clemency was the president.

The court sat in Fort Smith but it did not try Arkansas cases. Its jurisdiction was Indian Territory. Judge Isaac Parker presided and for 14 years there could be no appeal. (Then the law was changed) Eighty-three men were hanged.

Lancaster, Pa. — When H. Edwin Smith, of Philadelphia, bus driver, collapsed over the wheel of his passenger bus, Miss Mary Jane Bailey, Wrightsville, Pa., a nurse, sitting behind him, reached over his prostrate form and took the wheel as the careening bus, with its 17 passengers, left the highway and plunged between utility poles and through a wooden farm yard fence. The 21-year-old nurse brought it to a safe stop.

We have just learned of an editor who started from nothing 20 years ago and recently retired with a comfortable fortune of $50,000. He said it was acquired through the death of an uncle who left him $49,990.

ONE TO REMEMBER

Los Angeles, Calif. — Marie De Carlo had a wedding she'll never forget. Her husband-to-be, Christie De Carlo, gave her a $500 ring, furniture for their apartment, an elaborate wedding and a reception for 400 guests. He paid $263 for liquor, $92 for a wedding cake, $75 for a caterer and $65 for a band. Then, De Carlo's check bounced — every one of them, including one for $12.50 for his rented tuxedo. His bogus checks totaled $1800, police said.

Lions Conduct Auction; Praise Smith at Meet

During the recent past the Lions Club has conducted a number of auction sales to boost the organization's convention fund. Wednesday the club held another auction sale instead of having the usual program. Items which were auctioned off were cigars and one subscription to Esquire magazine. Bill Wilson and Richmond Hales were auctioneers. Proceeds from all the auctions went to the club's convention fund.

The Lions also learned that the Minstrel Show brought in $340.00. Prior to putting on the Minstrel Show the club was divided into two teams to sell tickets. The winning team was promised a chicken dinner and the losing team was to be served beans.

Clarence Eugene Thompson was selected as head of one team and John Hunter had the other. Hunter's team lost by selling fewer tickets. Members of this team had to eat beans while Clarence Eugene Thompson's team enjoyed a chicken dinner.

Emmitt Smith, outgoing president of the club, was given a standing applause for his service. Smith ends his official year of duty in July but he is leaving town for Austin where he will work on his Doctor's Degree at the University of Texas. Lion Jim Flynn will take over the duties of club president until president elect E. R. (Dutch) Cleavinger assumes the duties in July.

Three guests were entertained by the Lions Wednesday. They were Richmond Hales, Glenn Dowlen, Jr., and Glenn Dowlen, Sr.

American National Bank of Amarillo Boon to Plains Area

One of the largest banks in the Panhandle, The American National Bank of Amarillo, faithfully serves this territory and has become one of the most widely and favorably known financial institutions of the Southwest.

They serve the public with a complete banking service and have a reputation for being a conservative and reliable institution with all deposits guaranteed by the FDIC up to $10,000.00.

Since this bank's inception it has grown and developed as the community itself has prospered. By its adequate banking facilities it is playing an important part in the growth and development of the Panhandle.

Here you will find every banking facility. Their savings department is one of the most patronized services offered. Their Personal Loan Department is popular and they make real estate, farm and ranch loans. They have been the mainstay for many ranchers, businesses and individuals as they are vitally interested in the progress of the agricultural and business life of our people.

All officers and directors are local citizens and are of faultless character and good judgment. Through their efforts and knowledge of banking this institution has gained its prominent position as a leader in banking circles of the Southwest.

This outstanding financial institution is always glad to cooperate with every worthwhile movement that will benefit the Panhandle and our rich trade territory and we are glad to publicly congratulate The American National Bank of Amarillo and their directors and stockholders for the splendid banking record that they have made.

Charles F. Cahill, president, American Newspaper Publisher Association: "Service to others is impossible without education and achievement."

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

The VOICE of DEMOCRACY

THE VOICE OF OUR DEMOCRACY TENDS TO BECOME LOUDER IN A PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION YEAR. AT THIS SEASON, WHEREVER AMERICANS COME TOGETHER, THE POLITICAL DISCUSSION WAXES HOT.

YET, WHEN IT COMES TO THE BALLOT BOX, AS MANY AS 4 OUT OF 10 ELIGIBLE VOTERS MAY FAIL TO CAST THEIR VOTES. THE FOUNDERS OF OUR COUNTRY, WHO FOUGHT FOR THE VOTING PRIVILEGE, WOULD LITTLE APPRECIATE OR UNDERSTAND THIS FAILURE TO EXERCISE THE RIGHT OF FRANCHISE.

LET'S KEEP FAITH WITH OUR FOUNDING FATHERS, SIX MONTHS FROM NOW, AND BY VOTING—EACH AND ALL OF US—DISCHARGE THIS PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY AS CITIZENS OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Plains Creamery Boon to Agriculture

Now located in their new and modern plant at 300 N. Taylor the Plains Creamery in Amarillo are in position to better serve the Panhandle. They have spared no expense in the equipping of their new plant with the latest scientific devices to assure their patrons of the purest, highest quality dairy products.

PLAINS Grade A pasteurized and Homogenized Milk, Cream, Butter, milk, Ice Cream, Butter, Cottage Cheese, Orange Drink and Chocolate Milk are delivered daily to homes, groceries and markets throughout the area and their high quality is known and appreciated by thousands.

In addition to supplying the very highest quality dairy products, Plains Creamery has furnished a ready market to our dairies and farmers for their raw milk and cream. They have indeed displayed confidence in the future of our rich trade area in building one of the finest creameries in the Southwest.

The management of this aggressive concern, J. L. Nunn, president; A. F. Madison, vice-president and general manager, and G. D. Bowie, secretary-treasurer, are men of vision and have always been most cooperative in any worthwhile movement that would better our community, especially those programs that would tend to further the agricultural interests of the Panhandle.

We are glad in this review edition of the paper of complimenting Plains Creamery and their able management for the quality products they sell, the cooperation they give our farmers and dairymen and their liberal contribution toward the betterment of the Panhandle.

NO CHANGE EXPECTED

The customer had picked out seven large apples at the grocery store. "That will be eighty-five cents, please," said the clerk.

The customer handed the clerk a dollar bill and started to walk out. "You forgot your change, sir," called the clerk.

"That's all right, you keep it," came the retort, "I stepped on a grape on my way in."

HEART MESSAGE

Six or seven persons whose hearts stop beating in the operating room can be saved if heart massage is started within five minutes, according to Dr. Frank Cole, Veterans Administration doctor. He said that in most recent series of cases, where hand massage was begun within five minutes after heart stoppage, 40 of 47 patients survived.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Unemployment insurance reserve funds have risen to a new high, due to the general high employment throughout the nation, according to a Government report. The Bureau of Employment Security reports that the indicated reserve, as of the year's end, was $7,800,000,000. That was an increase of $191,000,000 in the last quarter of the year.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, who is shifting as Supreme Commander from the Far East to Europe, was outfitted by the Communists in Korea when he let up on military pressure during truce negotiations. Friends of General Ridgway point out, however, that the truce-talk policy was made in Washington and not in Tokyo.

George Kennan, Ambassador to Moscow and author of the State Department plan to "contain" Communism, now is out with a new idea as a guide to U. S. foreign policy. Mr. Kennan feels that it's time for this country to place less emphasis on "doing good" in the world, more on its own national interests.

Mitchell Electric Co. Reliable Concern

Each year home owners as well as business concerns are hearing of the added comfort both summer and winter as well as the economy to be had in insulating their buildings, that is why Mitchell Electric Co., 119 W. 9th in Amarillo, has been responsible for many of the insulation installations in this area.

The materials they use pass every laboratory test and are resistant to fire, mice, roaches and termites, and prevents sweating of walls. It reduces temperatures in summer for 10 to 20 degrees and reduces fuel costs in winter from 20 to 40 per cent and, therefore, pays for itself in a comparatively short time. A phone call to Mitchell Electric Co., in Amarillo, will bring one of their insulation engineers who will make a survey of your property and make necessary recommendations and cost estimates without obligation.

The job may be financed under F. H. A. with nothing down and 30 months on the balance.

Mitchell Electric Co. also has one of the most complete stocks of commercial, residential and industrial lighting fixtures in the Panhandle and are glad to recommend the proper fixtures for efficient lighting whether it is for one room or a large installation for the entire building.

This popular Amarillo insulating and lighting fixture concern is no stranger to our community as they have made many friends in the area. They were contractors for the insulating of the new First National Bank building in Canyon.

We highly recommend the Mitchell Electric Co. to our many readers and compliment them on their good record for quality, service and fair dealings.

A REAL SURPRISE

A famous author was autographing copies of his new novel in a large department store. One gentleman pleased him by bringing not only his new book for signature, but reprint editions of the author's two previous works as well.

"My wife likes your stuff," he remarked rather apologetically, "so I thought I'd give her these signed copies for a birthday present."

"A surprise, eh?" hazarded the author.

"I'll say," agreed the customer. "She's expecting a mink coat."

GOOD ANSWER

A small child was explaining to her younger brother that it was wrong to work on Sunday.

"But what about policemen?" said the boy. "They have to work on Sunday. Don't they go to heaven?"

"Of course not," replied his sister. "They're not needed there."

Why are women's purses bigger than men's?

Remember all those cartoons you've seen of a wife going through her sleeping husband's trouser pockets? They may give you a clue why some women's purses are bigger.

But we're inclined to think that there are other and better reasons why more women than men own stock in so many of America's largest companies.

For one thing, women are practical, thrifty, and inclined to do something sensible about their future finances and those of the family. Forgive us, mister, but the facts speak for themselves:

Women have outnumbered men share owners of telephone stock since 1900. The big food companies have a predominance of women share owners. Ditto the country's largest auto maker. And, at last count, 116,800 women owned shares in General Electric as against 83,000 men.

Big business, as it turns out, is a woman.

About 2,100 of these women—and men—turned out this spring to attend the G-E annual meeting and eat a box lunch in one of our largest factory buildings. If you'd like a report of what was said and done, just let us know. A card asking for "Report of the Sixtieth Annual Meeting," Dept. 6B, General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y., will do the trick.

Canyon Country Club Conducts Golf Tournament

Golf matches which were scheduled in Canyon's Country Club Tournament and were rained out Sunday will be played this week, according to Charlie Donnell. Players were matched June 1 and placed in flights. Winners will play each other for top prizes while losers will compete in the consolation prize bracket.

The tournament will go into its second round of play Sunday, June 8. Stuart Condon has emerged as medalist from the first round of play. Dan Sanders is in second place and Jack Haley is in third place. On Sunday, June 15, the final games of the tournament will be played.

Donnell explained that all players have an entire week in which to shoot their 18 holes of golf required in the tournament. Climaxing the end of the tournament on June 15 will be a picnic for club members. The meat for this barbecue picnic will be furnished by Ewing S. Cates.

Immediately after the picnic final matches will begin. They will continue throughout the week until the play-offs are finished.

Another tournament is scheduled to start Sunday, June 22. These players will be divided into two teams. Losers of this 18 hole match will furnish a hamburger supper for the winners and their wives. The date for this supper will be announced in the near future.

Donnell also added that a Coca Cola machine has been installed at the club house for the convenience of members. Those desiring this soft drink at the picnic should make it a point to bring along plenty of nickels as the club has no facilities for supplying change.

4-H Clubs Held 3-Day Camp at WT Last Week

Last week the 4-H Club extension district number 1 held a three day encampment on the campus of West Texas State College. Twenty counties make up the district and each county was represented by its extension agent or leader, three girls and three boys of the 4-H Club.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, extension agent for Randall County girls' 4-H club, had as three representatives at the encampment Alby Ann Kuehler, Romilda Gerber, and Estella Friemel.

Art Miller of Happy, Curtiss Stroup and Jack Metcalf of Canyon were representatives of the Randall County boys' 4-H club. John Brazzil is the leader of this group.

The entire program of the encampment was divided into two parts: Safety and Recreation. The safety portion of the program was under the direction of E. C. Martin of College Station, Texas.

The rural boys and girls learned that farming was the third most hazardous occupation of today. The only two occupations being ahead of farming in hazards were said to be mining and construction work.

Members of the 4-H Clubs also learned that farm tractors cause a large per cent of farm accidents. They were given training on the safe handling of farm power equipment.

Instructions were given on the safe method of handling farm home electrical equipment such as fuses, wiring and appliances. They were shown what to do in case of electrical shock.

A team from the Air Force taught the group a new method of artificial respiration. The new method has been in use only a short time but is proving more successful than the old straddle type of artificial respiration.

Those attending the encampment also learned to look for safety hazards about the farm and home. They were taught to do this by going out on a farm and looking for hazards among the buildings and grounds. A group of 25 boys and girls went out and they located and recorded 75 hazards in one hour.

From the recreational end of the program the members were taught to be leaders both in their community and their club. They were given instruction on how to plan and lead songs and games so that they might teach others to have fun.

Part of the camp time was spent in Palo Duro Park where the group received training in rifle safety and marksmanship. They also saw a demonstration of trick and fancy shooting put on by a representative of the Remington Arms Company.

"This Is Your America" Film Is Shown at Rotary

An interesting film was shown at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday, "This Is Your America." This film was patriotic in nature, showing the ideals of the nation. While no one can claim that this nation is perfect, the foundation upon which the nation rests is sound and secure.

It is a war picture, presented by the government in the sale of defense bonds.

Visitors were: Dr. and Mrs. John McClendon of Alabama; Leo Stoezing of Borger; Glen H. Wright of Enid, Okla.; Chas. R. E. Weaver of Seagraves; Bill Davis of Hereford; Guy Carlander, Van H. Allm. W. W. Rusk, R. E. Nickles, Tom Cartwright, James F. Pierce, Ross Rogers, all of Amarillo.

GRANDFATHER DIES

Dr. John Dewey, 92, one of America's greatest philosophers and the "father of progressive education" died in New York on June 1 of quick pneumonia. Dr. Dewey had been suffering from the debilities of old age for some time, particularly since he fell about nine months ago and fractured his hip.

He was the grandfather of Thornton Dewey who lives on the ranching properties of the Deweys north and west of Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey are unable to go to New York to attend the funeral but plan to go later.

Mrs. Austin Fullingham of Petersburg visited Mrs. N. A. Croson Sunday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS GIVES BRIDAL SHOWER RUBY BROWN

Members of the Intermediate Sunday School Class of the Calvary Baptist Chapel surprised Ruby Brown, bride-elect of Gordon Williams, with a party Friday evening in the home of their teacher, Mrs. J. C. Newton.

An archway entwined with roses over a miniature bride and bridegroom decorated the piano. Roses formed the centerpiece of the crystal appointed table from which punch, individual cakes bearing the inscription, "Gordon and Ruby," mint and nuts were served. Miss Brown was presented a table lamp as a gift.

MRS. ROSCOE RICHARDSON IS GIVEN PINK-BLUE SHOWER

On Tuesday, May 27, Mrs. Bill Hicks was hostess to a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Roscoe Richardson.

Seasonal flowers decorated the entertainment rooms.

Appropriate games were played by the guests before presentation of the gifts.

During the social hour ice cream and cake were served to the honoree and guests.

Those attending or sending gifts were Mesdames Reeves Donnell, John Brandt, Jackie Brandt, Matt Albracht, Henry Bracht, Clarence Beckman, Bill Davis, Betty Hicks, Frank Begert, Joe Frank, Charlie Howard, George Beckman, Rob O'Donald, Art Friemel, Earnie Holenstein, E. J. Friemel, and Odessa Linderman.

James Boyd was elected reporter.

Other officers are: Denner, Phil Pennington; assistant denner, Jimmie Dale Killingsworth; keeper of the buckskin, Freddie McCormack.

After the meeting was closed with the pledge of allegiance led by James Boyd, refreshments were served to Phil Pennington, Freddie McCormack, Eugene Blasdel, Mike McAtee, Bob Condron, Bobby Joiner, Jess Will Sheets, James Boyd, and the Den Chief, Roy Hunter. Den mother is Mrs. Stuart Condron.

The Den is planning an all-night party in their den house Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Elferd and family of Childress visited over the week end with the Riley Troths.

Miss Vergie Haines, who has been attending school in Denton, arrived Tuesday night for two weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Gladys Haines, then she reports to Eagles River, Wisconsin, to be crafts counselor at summer camp.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Campbell have returned from a vacation trip to Hatfield, Ark., Dallas, and Lake Texoma.

Firm's Charity Kept as Secret For 30 Years

BOSTON—A $30 million "humanitarian fund" established by George Robert White, philanthropist, shortly before he died has been revealed by Dr. Samuel M. Best, who succeeded White as president of Cuticura Corp., Malden. White died 30 years ago.

Dr. Best said he was making the first public report of the work and status of Mr. White's humanitarian fund now to fulfill a promise in January, 1922, that the public be told of the multi-million-dollar philanthropic project after 30 years following his death.

The money was provided to aid struggling artists, medical patients, institutions and hospitals. The donations had totaled some $30 million and the fund will continue to pour additional millions into humanitarian projects.

Mr. White ordered the Cuticura Corp., "forever turn over $2 out of every $3 it makes in net profits" to support these charitable endeavors through the fund.

Beneficiaries include the Massachusetts General Hospital, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Massachusetts Medical Society, Boston Health Department and Boston Lying-in Hospital.

The fund also built the Boston Medical Library and the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and purchased countless works of art for the Boston Museum.

The fund is nearly six times greater than the famous White fund left by him to the city of Boston. That fund has financed several public recreational places.

The corporation manufactures soap, liquid soap, ointments, shaving cream and many allied products.

Fear of Courtship May Destroy Bororo Indians

The Bororo Indians are dying out. They live on the Amazon. An expedition returned from their homeland reported that no ailments or urges toward race suicide are to blame for the doom of the 2,000 tribesmen who survive.

The doom of the Bororos isn't caused by any fear of married life. It is just that those jungle hunters are afraid of courtship, and both the young men and the girls seem to have ample reasons.

If a young Bororo feels attracted to a girl and sees his love requited, he must ask her parents for her hand, and, as proof of his ability to support her by his industry, he must make a cudgel and hand it to his prospective father-in-law. The parent then tries that appliance on the youth's head.

If the cudgel holds good, the wedding is in order. The insensible bridegroom then is carried away into safety by his friends.

However, if the instrument breaks on contact with the amorous young man's skull—and Bororo skulls are unusually solid—then it is a sign that his qualifications are poor, and that his request has been rejected.

Even the prospective bride doesn't come out unscathed from the Bororo engagement ceremonies: While the bridegroom nurses his bruised head, the girl's friends tie her to a tree and beat her to chase evil spirits from her body. The honeymoon thus is spent mostly by the young couple in nursing each other's wounds.

Such is the courtship tradition of the Bororos, and returning explorers point to it to explain why those Amazonian denizens are marriage shy, and are dying out.

English 'Bargees' Vanish Without Leaving Substitute

LIVERPOOL, Eng.—The "bargees", men who pilot the small narrow craft that ply Britain's inland waterways, are dying off and replacements cannot be found.

"It was once the rule," a British Transport official said, "that sons followed in their father's wakes. Now young men prefer jobs ashore."

Facing a serious shortage of recruits for work on the barges, transport officials wonder where the next generation of "bargees" will come from. The shortage is felt particularly in the manning of long-distance craft, on which a trip may last a week or more.

A representative of a Liverpool employment office said, "This work has been a calling—almost a British way of life—for 200 years, but we receive few applications for the job nowadays."

Scots Don't Like Title Of New English Queen

GLASGOW—Scottish nationalists don't like the way their sentiments are flouted when England's new queen calls herself Queen Elizabeth II.

The first Elizabeth ruled before the union of England and Scotland—and Scottish nationalists contend Britain's new Queen should not use the "second" part of her title.

The executive committee of the Scottish covenant association—the biggest organization in Scotland working for home rule—protested "against the title in which Her Majesty has been proclaimed."

A Tough Row to Hoe

SWEET TREASURE

Little Margie had been attending a birthday party, and now her big sister had come to take her home.

Crossing the street, the sister took hold of the youngster's hand. "My goodness, Margie," she exclaimed, "How sticky your hands are!"

"Well," replied Margie, "yours would be too if you had a piece of chiffon pie, a cream puff, and a chocolate éclair in your muff."

CAN'T TELL YET

"Captain, is this a good ship?" "Madam, this is her maiden voyage."

The market value of the country's output, known technically as "gross national product" was running at an annual rate of $339,500,000,000 in the first three months of this year, according to the Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce. This figure compares with an annual rate of $334,500,000,000 for the closing quarter of 1950.

It all happens so quickly, it is sometimes hard to say if a French government fell or was caught in a revolving door.

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

This being the first week in June and the month being one usually devoted to brides, it's only fitting to dedicate this column to brides. Many of the jokes that go the rounds about brides usually show the young ladies as being totally lost in a kitchen. For the most part this lack of knowledge about cooking is untrue because most of the young brides have had excellent home making courses in school and are very good at cooking.

Already this month several cars with the familiar "just married" sign on them have been seen. One of them was a little different from the ordinary painted up car carrying a pair of newlyweds on a honeymoon. It had the comical sign, "Bye, bye Ma, I'm a big boy now," painted on it.

According to statistics, the housewife conducts the spending of more than 80% of the nation's wealth. This is something the new bride may find a little strange at first. Handling the finances in operating the home is no easy job during this day of high prices but the chances are all new brides will satisfactorily rise to the occasion. Even though both bride and groom is the subject of many jokes such jokes are usually taken in stride, enjoyed with a good laugh and forgotten.

In fact, it may be said that brides are the most important people in the world. On their shoulders rests the responsibility of keeping a home and bringing up a family. This is no easy matter and requires a great deal of attention over a long period of time. One of the most important places in civilization as we know it is that filled by the housewife whether she be a bride of two weeks or the mother of two children.

June is an important month in the year for more reasons than its brides. This is the month school children return home for their summer vacation. Their long vacation is usually augmented by dad's two week vacation. During this time the entire family gets together for a discussion about where the vacation will be spent this year. It's been going on for many, many years and will probably continue for many more. The male members of the family usually want to go to the mountains where there's a nice trout stream and the females long for a lovely beach on the sea shore.

One of the things that many people might not realize at this time is that in another week 1952 will be half gone. So, June also marks the turning point in the year as well as in the lives of many people. Most people say when time seems to go by more rapidly you're growing old but on the other hand it might be that you're too busy to notice the passing of time. This is probably the situation most June brides will find themselves in.

Maybe it's because June rhymes with moon that caused so many romantic songs to be written about this particular month. This could also be one of the important factors in making the month a popular one for brides, weddings and vacations. Most tune-smiths say to get a song with lyrics rhyming with moon and June and you have a hit. Whether it's the songs that made the month popular or the month that made the songs popular is hard to tell. It's like the age-old question, "Which came first, the chicken or the egg."

There's an old saying that a thing of beauty is a joy forever. This may be one of the reasons June is a more popular month to so many people. The colorful beauty that blossoms forth in June and the long days of sunshine contribute handsomely to the month's attraction. As the song writers say, "it's captivating." It may be this captivating power that makes it the month of weddings.

Artificial Lures Help Local Fisherman Catch Big Bass in Creek Near Canyon

H. C. GENTRY SHOWS THE PROOF

(Special article by H. C. Gentry)

When you came out with your first fish story of the season in April 23rd edition of The News and invited fishermen to bring their fish yarns to The News, you really invited a possible deluge of tall tales and stories from our ever growing fishing minded population of this high plains area, and we are wondering if you should require proof lest some of them be branded as: "just another big fish lie."

Pictures are usually accepted as good proof even though occasionally one fisherman may be skeptical of another's picture. Most every reader will pause to look at a big fish picture and a large percent will read the story, if there be one, but the reaction or remarks thereafter can vary. Maybe like the little girl who with her father watched me land a five pound bass then turned to him and said: "Daddy, isn't that a beauty"; or maybe like the fisherman who seeing another fisherman land a big channel cat, took a long look at it and said, "Just another big fish lie."

Well, anyway, here's one to start the ball rolling and maybe to set up a target for some of our ardent anglers to shoot at. But I am taking the precaution to submit the proof, in form of a picture, of the big beauties. Yes, they are bass, let there be no mistaken identity. Thanks to Mr. Britain of Britain's Studio for bring out every feature of identity. The fish are black bass, the aristocrat and king of our Texas fresh water game fish and beyond any doubt, the wisest, waryest and most unpredictable of the finny tribes.

They were taken on artificial lure and light casting tackle, my favorite angling for game fish. Artificial bait casting as it is known, has been my number one hobby and recreational pastime over a period of some 30 years. It's truly a great fishing sport and is the really sporting way to take the game species which nature has given us, seemingly, to create a sport fishing for those of us who crave real action, plenty of exercise and thrills galore along with our outdoor recreation. Yes, and it gets the kind of fish you like to take home.

I like to write on the art of artificial bait casting and incidentally have done several articles on the sport, which appeared in various newspapers and magazines directed for the most part to novices at the sport. But to make such articles explanatory involves considerable space which I shall not ask for at this time, but would like to drop a few hints on the more essentials that go to make the sport interesting and fascinating as well as successful. This involves knowing the waters you desire to fish, knowing the feeding, fighting and hiding habits of the kind of fish you wish to angle for.

It also involves knowing when to be out there casting and where to be casting in certain waters at certain times of the day or perhaps at night. Know your lures, when to use them and how to make each and every type perform as it should.

We must make the wise and wary believe they are getting a big, juicy mouthful if on the feed or if in hiding we must appeal to their fighting qualities, but nothing doing in either case if they know man, their worst enemy is around.

A study of these things and the information gained from time to time put into practice will contribute more to the sport and success of a fishing trip than too much stress placed on certain periods of the moon, days or the month or what-not. More and more power to our artificial bait anglers and especially the novices at the sport. Second to my hobby of bait casting is that of collecting old time sayings and jokes, of which I have hundreds. Here's one lifted from McClure Magazine which might go well with some fish stories.

City visitor: Which is correct, a hen is sitting or a hen is setting? Farmer: I dunno and don't care. All I bother about is when she cackles, is she laying or lying.

Glenn Dowlen, Jr., Gave Senior Recital At Texas University on May 13-14

Glenn Dowlen, Jr. is one of the area's most promising musical aspirants. He is the son of a music teaching mother and a rancher father. Mrs. Dowlen teaches music in the public school system. Glenn was soloist with the St. David's Episcopal Church for three years. He has also appeared as guest soloist with the University singers and the University Symphony Orchestra on the nationwide Liberty Broadcasting System. He has done television broadcasts from Dallas and San Antonio.

At present Glenn is the president of Phi Mu Alpha honorary music fraternity. He receives his bachelor of music degree in June at the University of Texas where he gave a recital on May 13 and 14.

In the recital Dowlen sang the works of such artists as Bach, Peri, Wolf, Thomas and Dvorak. It was a senior recital held in the Recital Hall of Texas University at Austin. Dowlen, a bass-baritone, was accompanied by Lois Zabel Banke.

The work of Glenn Dowlen appears to be farther advanced than the usual graduating student. In 1950 he sang the part of Figaro in "The Marriage of Figaro." Last year he appeared as Kezal in "The Bartered Bride," and this spring he played the warden in "Die Fledermaus." He was also heard as the Sacristan in the Austin Symphony concert version of "Tosca."

The two recitals given by Dowlen on May 13 and 14 had no admission charge. The program included "Qui fecit mihi magna," from the "Magnificat," and "Slumber On" from the cantata "It is Enough" by J. S. Bach, "Invocazione Di Orfeo" from "Euridice" by Jacopo Peri, "Michaelangelo Lieder" by Hugo Wolf, "Le Tambour-Major" from "Le Caid" by Ambrose Thomas, and "Gypsy Songs" by Antonin Dvorak.

Undulant Fever May Be Expected During The Coming Season

This is the season when an increase of undulant fever may be expected, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

An undulant fever patient suffers from chilly sensations, or severe shaking chills, sweats, and high fever. The patient loses weight and becomes weak. If the illness is of mild type, the patient may find it hard to remain in bed, but if he tries to keep on with his work he finds he has not sufficient energy.

Symptoms often continue for a number of weeks before recovery occurs. Fortunately undulant fever has a low death rate. Body temperature may reach a higher mark each day than the day before for some time, and then gradually return to normal over a period of several days. Fever may be absent for some days and come back again in the same way as before, registering higher each day and then gradually going lower. The patient's temperature chart will resemble smooth waves or undulations. The appearance of the temperature curve in typical cases has given this disease the name undulant fever.

Undulant fever is one of the infectious diseases known to be transmitted from animals to human beings. In hogs and cows, the germ produces a great economic loss because it causes contagious abortion. When this same germ invades the human body, the resulting disease is undulant fever. Prevention is dependent upon (1) eradication of the disease in farm animals, (2) careful pasteurization of dairy products, and (3) avoidance, in so far as possible, of direct contact with infected animals.

Gordon Novak 'Moves the Earth'

Rendering a complete excavating service including all types of ditching and earth moving for construction, such as basements, driveways and leveling, Gordon Novak, Dirt Contractor, 2040 Bowie (Phone 3-8382) in Amarillo has rapidly become one of the leaders in his field for the reason he has the necessary "Know How" acquired by long experience, plus the most modern equipment.

Many of the general contractors have found that it is far more economical to sublet the excavation end of a construction job to Novak than to do it themselves, not only because he is a specialist in his line but it saves the cost of expensive equipment, supervision and the work is actually accomplished in less time.

Of special interest to those engaged in farming, Gordon Novak has the proper equipment and does terracing to prevent soil erosion and a complete irrigation service as far as ditching, leveling and preparation of the land is concerned. This aggressive contractor is always glad to discuss irrigation, terracing or any other earth moving work with prospective customers.

His long experience and successful record enables him to give good advice and many ideas that, if followed, will save time and money and result in a more satisfactory job. Those who have used the services of Gordon Novak are highly pleased with the good service and reasonable charges.

C. S. Lambie & Co. Leaders in Field

Substantial contributors to the progress of this area are the general contracting firm, C. S. Lambie & Co. with offices in the Amarillo Building in that metropolitan city, who have established a well deserved reputation for their outstanding record in the construction of commercial, industrial and public buildings.

C. S. Lambie and his associates, M. W. Hamilton and Allen Ritter, are men who have given much toward the development of the Panhandle and have turned their personal success in the construction and business field to the advantage of the people as a whole. They have accomplished much toward making the area a better place in which to live and they hold a commanding position among their neighbors, friends and business associates.

In the pursuit of the construction business the Lambie organization has always been known to use only the very highest quality materials and their construction crews are staffed only by experienced and highly skilled craftsmen. Their services are sought by interests throughout Texas and Oklahoma because they have a reputation for rendering sound construction service whether the contract be on a cost plus or a fixed-fee basis.

We are fortunate in having citizens of the calibre of C. S. Lambie and those associated with him in our community and take this opportunity in this review edition to wish for their continued success in the construction field.

HUNG ONE

A husband had been making the rounds New Year's Eve. Returning home full of holiday spirits, he stood in a corner, arms outstretched, and said over and over: "I'm a Christmas tree, I'm a Christmas tree, but I haven't any ornaments."

Just then his wife came in and hung one on him.

CORRECT?

It seems that modern statesmen can't tell a lie, either. The correct name for it is an "official denial."

Whether the tidelands belong to the states or to the federal government is going to be decided, in the final analysis, by four or five Senate votes that are now doubtful.

It seems strange to most Texans that the federal government could lay claim to the submerged lands.

They have belonged to Texans since the days of the Republic. When Texas came into the Union, rights to the lands were specifically stated in the articles of annexation, which were ratified by the Congress of the United States and by the Republic of Texas. That was in 1845.

For a hundred years thereafter, state ownership of the tidelands was upheld by the courts.

Then a Supreme Court ruled that the federal government had "paramount rights" to the oil-rich offshore lands.

Congress passed a bill giving the tidelands back to the states, and President Truman vetoed that bill, saying that it would make a "free gift of immensely valuable resources, which belong to the entire nation, to the states which happened to be located nearest them."

I cannot help but wonder whether, by the same logic, the coal fields of Pennsylvania belong to the federal government, inasmuch as coal is a valuable resource belonging to the entire nation, rather than to the state which happens to be located nearest it.

I do not comprehend why, by the same reasoning, the farm land of Iowa, the forests of Washington, and the cattle ranges of Wyoming would not similarly belong to the federal government as a matter of "paramount right."

State officials of Texas have sharply differed with the President in his views on the tidelands. Governor Allan Shivers commented that Mr. Truman's veto followed the "doctrine that might makes right."

Attorney General Price Daniel charged that the President substituted "his will for that of the people's duly elected representatives."

Land Commissioner Bascom Giles predicted that "If we're unsuccessful this year, I'm looking forward to next year when we'll have a president who will sign the legislation and correct a grave injustice that has been done to the State of Texas."

Shivers, Daniel and Giles are the members of the state school land board, which had control of the submerged lands until the federal government took them over. Tax money from tidelands oil goes to the public schools.

Action on the president's veto is expected in the Senate not earlier than June 5. It takes a two-thirds vote to override the veto. And here is the crux of the situation. The vote is going to be close. Nobody can tell you how it will go. The fate of the tidelands, as I said, is in the hands of a few doubtful Senators.

There is little or no question that if the Senate overrides the veto and sends the matter to the House, there are sufficient votes to override there.

Should the tidelands measure lose in the Senate, Texas has no recourse but to wait, as Commissioner Giles points out, and hope that the next President of the United States will look differently on the matter of tidelands ownership.

Perhaps he will agree with the 247 representatives who voted for the bill, as against 89 who opposed it; and with the 50 Senators who wanted to give the tidelands back to the states, as compared with 35 who sided with Mr. Truman.

Without doubt, Texas, California, and Louisiana, and Florida will try again if they fail this time.

SOME DIFFERENCE

Teacher: "What is the difference between a primitive man and a modern man?"

Pupil: "When his wife talks too much, modern man goes to his club, while the primitive man reached for it."

THE SCHEMER

Junior was invited to his friend's house for supper, but refused, when his mother asked him why, he sneered:

"He just wants me to help him eat up his cereal so he can have the box tops."

SO WERE OTHERS

It is pointed out that the thick novel is not modern; the generation of Dickens was raised on it. And so were we, until we grew up to the dinner table.

YOU HAVE

Remember, when you point your finger accusingly at someone else, you've got three fingers pointing at yourself.

J. R. Van Cleave, former college dean: "I fear fascism as much as I do communism."

VETERAN JOB RULING

WARWICK'S

Impressive Twilight Services Read for Johnson - Sims Double Ring Wedding

MRS. MORRIS E. SIMS

At six o'clock Saturday, May 31, Miss Giovanna Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Johnson of Los Angeles, California, became the bride of Morris E. Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sims of Happy in a double-ring, candle-light service read by Rev. Howard Bramlett in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Jade palms formed the altar background. Branched candelabra and large baskets of pink calla lilies flanked the altar which, like the communion rail, was draped with white satin and garlands of plumosus fern and pink marconi daisies. The wedding march aisle was lighted by white tapers mounted on pillars covered with greenery and pink marconi daisies.

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen at the organ played prenuptial selections and accompanied Miss Pam McDonald who sang "Through the Years." As musical background for the services she played "Oh Promise Me." For the processional and recessional she played the traditional marches.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. James B. Sharp of Los Angeles wore a lime green eyelet organdy gown designed with a two tiered ballerina length skirt, fitted bodice and a cape collar. Her headdress was a green bandeau with a side cluster of pink tea roses. Her slippers were pink. She carried a pink straw hat basket with braided pink ribbon handle and filled with pink sweetheart roses.

Little Miss Nelda Sims, junior bridesmaid and sister of the bridegroom, Miss Pam McDonald, Mrs. Joan Conner, Mrs. A. L. Walsh, Jr., of Kansas City, Missouri, bridesmaids, wore gowns, headdresses, and carried baskets identical to those of the matron of honor.

Eugene Sims was best man to his brother. Groomsmen were Leo Sims, Weldon Sims, Bill Airhart of Los Angeles, and Dr. A. L. Walsh, Jr., of Kansas City.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white embroidered organdy gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice, low rounded neckline, tiny covered buttons down the back and long leg-o-mutton sleeves which came to a point over the hands. The gracefully gathered skirt extended into a full cathedral train. Her double tiered veil of imported French illusion was attached to a small white eyelet crown-fitting hat. A strand of pearls belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Johnson, was her only ornament. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson chose a floor length gown of ash rose crepe with rose accessories. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Sims, mother of the bridegroom, wore a floor length lime green lace gown with pink accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was honored with a reception in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Walsh, Sr. The silver and crystal appointed refreshment table from which the wedding cake and punch were served was laid with white grass linen and centered with the bride's bouquet flanked by pink candles. Members of the house party were the host and hostess; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. John Sims; Mrs. Roscoe Davis; Mrs. W. O. Long of Cheyenne Agency, South Dakota; Mrs. Jack Bloodworth of Los Angeles, California; Mrs. L. L. Byars, Mrs. Eugene Sims, Mrs. Leo Sims and Mrs. Weldon Sims.

For the wedding trip Mrs. Sims wore a navy blue and white suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The couple will be at home in Happy, where Mr. Sims is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Sims attended high school in Los Angeles, Los Angeles City College and the University of Redlands. At the time of her marriage she was a senior in West Texas State where she was president of Gamma Phi Sorority. Mr. Sims attended high school in Happy. He served four years in the Navy and is a graduate of West Texas State with a major in agriculture. While in school there he was a member of the Rodeo Association, Aggie Club, and was president of Epsilon Beta Fraternity.

Out-of-town guests, other than members of the immediate families, included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bloodworth of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Long of Cheyenne Agency, South Dakota; Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Walsh, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Williams of Kansas City; Lt. Eddie Blair of Norfolk, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Farrell and Pat of Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sterling, Sr., of Iva, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sims, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sims entertained the wedding party and guests at a rehearsal dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sims in Happy Friday night. They served a fried chicken dinner in their spacious backyard. There were forty guests at the dinner.

Dry Weather Turns Farmers to Jeffroy Plows

Amarillo's leading manufacturer of agricultural implements is constantly working and developing new equipment that is adapted to farming in the Panhandle and other localities that experience dry climatic conditions and a deficiency in rainfall. Farmers have found by using the JOEFFROY Chisel Plow that the soil resists erosion, the cost is reduced about one-half and it also stops blowing. It is useful to stubble land immediately after harvest.

By using the two-inch wide "chisel" points as deep as possible, the land is put in shape to sponge up the summer rains. The JOEFFROY breaks up the hard-pan and makes way for moisture to penetrate farther into the sub-soil.

JOEFFROY now offers a valuable new attachment for all JOEFFROY models—a seeding attachment made by Dempster. Its big advantage in this area is that you need not wait until the ground is moist on the surface or until immediately following a rain to plant. If there is any subsurface moisture at all, it can be reached with the chisel plow and seeding attachment.

Last year, a number of farmers in this area planted all of their wheat with a chisel drill. This spring we are having an excellent opportunity to observe the benefits of that kind of planting. In many instances, stands of wheat planted with this equipment even as dry as it has been are very good, while wheat on adjoining acreage which was planted with conventional drill has not shown good development.

This seeding attachment is ideal for planting all types of sorghum, maize and other small grains. This revolutionary seeder is easily mounted on all JOEFFROY as well as other makes of chisel plows.

Roy Jeffroy, president, and Ray L. Jeffroy, vice president, and sales manager of Jeffroy Mfg. Co., are to be complimented on their untiring efforts in the interests of the agricultural developments in this section and the "welcome mat" is always out to those interested in the promotion of better farming by the use of more modern and efficient machinery and they are glad to give the benefit of their wide experience and research in the farm machinery field to those who seek it.

We compliment this aggressive Amarillo plow manufacturer on their outstanding developments and interest in the Panhandle.
